CANAL GREAT WORK

MR. ORD'S VIVID DESCRIPTION PORRAYS IMMENSITY OF JOB.

FRGHT TRAFFIC LARGE

Fourrailroad Lines Are Continually Corsted Because of the Large mount of Stuff Handled.

Mr. anley Ford, son of Rev. J. S. Ford this city, spoke to the Normal studen Monday morning on the Panama cal. Mr. Ford is assistant superintendent of the department of governmenprinting in Panama, and he has be at work there for the last three yes.

Mr. Fd briefly sketched the six-day trip rom New York to Panama, telling othe old Spanish towns which dot the ast of the Carribean sea and which ar rich in tales of mystery and conquest Arriving at Panama, Colon is the fir city reached, and is named after Cristopher Columbus. The canal beins there.

The cal itself is fifty and one-half miles lon and is situated in the canal zone, a tct of land forty miles long and ten ties wide. Beginning on the Atlantic ide, the first seven miles of the canalare at sea level. Then by a series ofthree locks known as the Gatun locs, the level of the canal is raised eihty-five feet. From this point thechannel is through Gatun lake, a lke thirty-two miles long. The channl through the lake is 1,000 feet wide, nd ships can travel through it at ocea going speed. The whole distance ofthe lake is not used, the route of th canal going through the famous Cufora cut, which is twenty-three miles from the Gatun locks. This cut is ine miles long, and at its end there i a drop of thirty feet in one lock t Miraflores lake. This lake was made by damming three small rivers. By two locks the level of the canal drops from Miraflores lake to sea level it a distance of nine miles from the Pacific coast.

The trip through the canal will take twelve hours, three of which will be spent in going through the locks.

Mr. Ford said that there was no truth in the statement that the Pacific ocean was higher than the Atlantic. The sea level of the two is the same, but the very high tides of the Pacific make it seem higher than the Atlantic.

He then spoke briefly of the different plans for a canal which have been made during the last 400 years, and of the nineteen routes suggested in these plans. He also sketched the work of the French government on the canal, and attributed its failure largely to a lack of sanitation and ignorance of the malaria and yellow fever mosquitos.

The engineering work of the canal is divided into three sections, the Atlantic, Central and Pacific. The Atlantic section covers the work from the coast to the Gatunt locks, the Central extends from there to the end of the Culebra cut, and the Pacific takes the remainder.

Culebra cut is the great feature of the work, being made through the continental divide. it is the busiest place on the canal. Four main railroad lines run through it, from which branches extend to all parts. Trains of twenty cars carry the dirt and rock out of the cut. Between 7 a. m. and 5 p. m. these trains are run at intervals of three or four minutes. No freight or passenger traffic is allowed except after working hours, and then the rush of freight and passenger trains keeps up all through the night. The freight traffic is so large that the trains cannot handle all of it.

The slides in this cut which one hears so much about are neither very serious in their effects on the work nor dangerous. They move very slowly; one or two feet a day, and now steam shovels are removing them faster than they can slide down on the work.

Along the line of the canal twenty towns have been built. Nearly all of these towns get their amusements from Y. M. C. A. organizations. Large club houses furnish all manner of games, reading rooms, and places for dancing. The total population of these towns, together with the coast towns, is between forty and fifty thousand. The number of Americans is small compared with other races, there being only 5,000 Americans, while there are 10,000 Spaniards, 20,000 West Indian negroes, a large number of Chinese, and a sprinkling of Italians, Greeks, etc. These 50,000 people are practically under the government of a dictator, for the word of the chairman of the canal commission is law. The government has been exceptionally good.

The problem of what to do with these people when the canal is finished will not be a hard one. It is planned to send the West Indian negroes back to their former homes on the islands. In speaking of this, Mr. Ford told of a peculiar custom of the British government. He said that whenever a British subject left the country the government demands a payment, which is kept to enable that person to return home should he ever want to do so. As for the other people, the Americans and Spaniards are already leaving as fast as they can make enough money to keep them or give them a start in business when they get home.

A plan is now being projected to take the canal machinery to Alaska and build railroads which will open all of that country to the world.

FELL FORM UPSTAIRS WINDOW.

The 1-Year-Old Girl Baby of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keefe Walked in Her Sleep Monday Night.

The 1-year-old girl baby of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keefe, living near Clyde, got out of her trundle bed Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock and toddled over by the window that opens near the floor and fell out to the ground, a distance of about fifteen feet.

It is supposed that the child was overheated and was walking in her sleep trying to find a cool place. The window had no screen over it and there was nothing to prevent her falling through the open window.

The parents were aroused by her cries and she was soon rescued from her predicament. Dr. W. P. Stuckle was summoned to see if the child was injured, but he found the parents suffering greater injury than the baby. No bones were broken, and aside from a few bruises the child was all right.

ENGINEER PHILLIPS HERE.

He made suggestions to the board as to how to go farther and the details necessary as to the pump test. The board intends to make a thorough test for well water, and Mr. Phillips told them how to develop the test and how to find out whether there is a sufficient supply of water.

Mr. Phillips left Maryville Monday evening. In his conference with the board, they went over many matters as to the valuation of the water plant.

STATE LOSES APPLE TREES.

A Decrease of Six Million Since the Last Tree Census.

At a meeting of the state board of horticulture, held at Jefferson City on Monday, W. W. Chenowith of Columbia, secretary of the board, tendered his resignation, which was accepted. He resigns to take a place as instructor in the Massachusetts State Agricultural college. His successor will be selected at the next meeting of the board.

Among other proceedings at the session a call was issued for a meeting of the American Apple Growers' congress at the Planters' hotel in St. Louis, August 22.

A number of prizes were offered by the board as follows: Two $100 scholarships in the state university to the boy sending to the state agricultural college at Columbia one gallon of the best picked apples of this year's crop; $400 for horticultural awards at the state fair at Sedalia.

Reports were submitted to the board showing that the number of apple trees in Missouri have diminished from 20,000,000 a few years back to about 14,000,000 at this time. No reason is assigned for the decrease beyond the ravages of insects and the unreliability of the crop. Reports indicate a very heavy yield of apples in Missouri this year.

LAND VALUES INCREASE

With Improved Schools, Says Statement From School Mill Tax Amendment Headquarters.

Visitors to Missouri from the extreme western states, interviewed on school problems of the rural districts, express astonishment at the neglect of rural schools in this state and wonder at the stupidity of the farmers who do nothing to improve them. As an illustration of the good accruing from adequate school support, they cite the increase in land values in those rural districts where good schools obtain and are kept up to a high standard.

"The farmers of the west, particularly in Washington and California, are keen alive to the fact that generous support of the public schools and the maintenance of good roads is the best medium for increasing land values and establishing a solid estate in the rural districts," said P. H. Greene, a heavy owner of rural lands in Washington.

"The first question the investor asks when you go to sell him a farm is, "How about the schools?" This question is always followed by one relative to road conditions. We have a bad time selling farms where we cannot give satisfactory answers along these lines. The support of schools and roads is not an expense which nets no gain. On the contrary, adequate school and road taxes serve as splendid investments. Without good roads and schools land values decrease. They decrease rapidly where surrounding districts are making school and road improvements.

"The people are always shifting to where they have the most advantages. I am told here in Missouri many of the farmers who have made sufficient money to live easily are renting or selling their farms and moving to the towns and cities. This exodus should be checked, it is one of the prime causes of the high cost of living. The farmers should have schools and other necessary institutions and the proper means for reaching them. Farm life should be made comfortable and desirable.

"Aside from pride in his state and nation, the farmer should see that the support of schools is putting money in his pocket, not taking it out. In Washington it would not be necessary to urge the farmers to support the schools properly. They want the best there is always."

Missouri rural districts would have schools comparing favorably with the best and farm lands would increase in value with the adoption of the school mill tax amendment at the November election. The amendment provides sufficient funds for common and high schools, and will release a million dollars from the general state revenue which may be used by the legislature for good roads or other objects of general demand.

CATARRH OF STOMACH.

Indigestion and Stomach Agony Quickly Ended.

If you went to thirty doctors and paid each his fee for a prescription for indigestion or stomach misery it is ten chances to one you wouldn't get such a good prescription as the one from which MI-O-NA stomach tablets are made.

How can such a thing be? you naturally ask.

Simply because the man who wrote the prescription from which MI-O-NA tablets are made knows more about stomach diseases than 96 per cent of all the physicians in America, and he gets paid for knowing.

And when you can get a large box of tablets made from this doctor's prescription for only 50 cents, are you going to continue to suffer? Sold by the Orear-Henry Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.

AMERICAN WOMEN LEAVING MEXICO

Salazar's Threat of Massacre Causes General Exodus.

WANTS TO FORCE INTERVENTION

Men of Mormon Colonies Remain Behind, Unarmed and Helpless—Many Train loads of Refugees on Way to Texas.

El Paso, Tex., July 30.—Nearly 600 American women and children, hungry and worn out with fatigue and fear have just arrived here. They came on another special train of refugees, from the Mormon colonies in the Cases Grandes district, 200 miles south of the United States border at this point. The train departed for another load and still more are expected on a train due to arrive here early in the morning.

There are already more than 800 refugees from the colonies in this city. The refugees are from the three large and three small colonies, each with almost an entire American population, Dublan, with 1,200, Juarez with 800, Diaz 750 and three minor mountain settlements with from 250 to 300 population each. According to conservative figures given by the Mormon church dignitaries here, more than 3,350 Americans in Mexico consider themselves in grave danger.

Refugees Living in Tents.

City officials of El Paso have housed the refugees in tents, and city and county physicians are attending the sick.

The correspondent of an El Paso paper wired a statement here declaring that Salazar, second in command of the Mexican rebel army had made several addresses in which he asserted that all Americans in the rebel zone were to be disarmed, and all protection guaranteed for American citizens withdrawn.

Salazar is reported as saying that inasmuch as the American government had treated the rebels as bandits, they may as well act such parts.

Some Americans, who recently left Mexico, consider it will be only a few days before intervention by the United States is forced. They say they expect the destruction of all American property.

Orozco Shoulders Blame.

Juarez, Mexico, July 30.—Gen. Pascual Orozco, commander in chief of the rebels, admitted that he was responsible for the order disarming the Mormons and declares that the United States is to blame.

He takes the grounds that he must have arms and ammunition in some manner. If the United States will recognize his government, he says, and permit him to import cartridges and arms, he will agree to protect all foreigners. He says he demonstrated his abilty to do so until the United States shut off his supply of ammunition.

ARMY OFFICERS UNDER ARREST

Refusal to Obey Orders Gets National Guardsmen Into Trouble After Sham Battle.

Gate, Wash., July 30.—Four officers of the second battalion, third regiment, Oregon national guard, are under arrest on a charge of refusal to obey orders, as the result of the battalion's failure to obey immediately a command after the sham battle to return to Oakville, whence the regiment came.

After the fighting, which had closed a week's maneuvers, the regiment carrying heavy field equipment, proceeded to this place. The officers of the second battalion, it is said, declined to obey the order. Later, after abandoning their accoutrements, the second battalion returned to Oakville.

PASSENGERS HAD CLOSE CALL

Missouri Pacific Train Derailed at Sherman, Mo.—Two Trainmen Injured.

Sedalia, Mo., July 30.—An obstruction in a frog on the Missouri Pacific at Sherman, 25 miles west of St. Louis, resulted in the derailment of the engine, tender, mail car, baggage car, smoker and one coach of westbound train No. 3 at 11 o'clock. Paul Smith, engineer, of Sedalia and W. P. Dameron, baggageman, of St. Louis were injured. The passengers were severely shaken up. Trains are being detoured over the Frisco tracks between St. Louis and Pacific.

Says Ball Fans are Crazy.

St. Louis, July 30.—The Rev. Louis Schott de Burgh, pastor of Windsor Methodist Episcopal church, attended the double header between St. Louis and New York, to get material for a sermon he will preach on baseball. He says all fans are suffering from a form of insanity and pointed to the wild cheering which followed a good play as evidence that the people were afflicted with "baseballophobia."

Threw Himself Under a Train.

Hastings, Neb., July 30.—Oliver Linder, 60 years old, committed suicide by throwing himself in front of the engine of the Burlington passenger train near the station here.

DEATH CLAIMS JAPAN'S RULER

Mutsuhito Passes Away After Long Illness.

CROWN PRINCE TAKES THRONE

Meeting of Privy Council Called Immediately to Arrange for Crowning of New Emperor.

Tokio, July 30.—Mutsuhito, emperor of Japan, died this morning at 12.43 o'clock. Acute nephritis was given as the cause of death.

The crown prince, Yoshihito, has succeeded to the throne.

The mikado had suffered from kidney trouble eight or nine years. Of late it had been growing much worse. An intestinal complaint also developed July 14, fits of prolonged drowsiness followed and July 18 the patient's brain became affected and he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Late Emperor of Japan.
Born August 31, 187—Died July 30 1912—Was made ruler in January, 1867.

A slight rally in the patient's condition early in the night failed to hold. Every resource known to science was used by the attending physicians to bear him over the crisis which they knew to be at hand, but the stimulants administered to strengthen the heart action had no effect.

Last Moments Impressive.

The last moments of the mikado were most impressive. Surrounding the deathbed were the empress, Crown Prince Yoshihito's wife and the young princess and the royal physicians together with a few of the heads of state.

Crown Prince Yoshihito was the only one of the mikado's near relatives who was unable from the first to be near to his father. He was just recovering from a severe attack of chickenpox, and his doctors told him it would be unwise for him to leave his bed.

While the throngs in front of the royal palace had been waiting for hours in breathless expectancy and had seemingly been prepared for the announcement of the end an audible wail arose from the multitude when that announcement came.

Crowds Awaited the News.

The crowds had been storming at the palace gates for hours as if in the hope of getting to the bedside of the dying emperor. Military guards were increased until they formed a cordon around the palace grounds. After the bulletin proclaiming the emperor was dead was given out, several more regiments of soldiers were hastened to the palace.

Immediately after the announcement of the emperor's death a meeting of the privy council was called by its president, Prince Aritomo Yamata, and a meeting of the cabinet was called by Premier Saioni to arrange for the crowning of the crown prince.

Under the reign of the late mikado, Japan underwent almost miraculous changes. From the very first he displayed intuitive genius in fashioning the political affairs of his people and in forging out the destiny of his empire. He is acclaimed by the entire world as the father of modern Japan.

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST BECKER

New York Police Lieutenant Arrested for Gambler's Death.

COURT CALLED NIGHT SESSION

After Plea of Not Guilty, Officer Is Locked Up in Prison—Grand Jury Called at Night First Time in 18 Years.

New York, July 30.—Police Lieut. Charles Becker, accused by Herman Rosenthal as his partner in a gambling game, was arrested accused of participating in the gambler's killing. He was forced to plead at once to a charge of murder in the first degree. Becker was arraigned before Judge Mulqueen, who had convened the court of general sessions at night for the purpose. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded to the Tombs.

Becker was arrested on a charge of extortion at the Bathgate avenue police station in the Bronx, where he has been on duty. At the time no inkling of the more serious charge to be placed against him was given.

Hurried Before Judge.

Meanwhile the grand jury, which has been in session, had voted the murder indictment. The police lieutenant, who had been suspended by Commissioner Waldo after his arrest, was hurried before Judge Mulqueen.

It was close to midnight when Becker was brought into court. He held his head erect and showed little or no concern.

John Hart, who appeared as Becker's counsel, asked for time to confer with his client, saying he had not seen Becker during the day and knew nothing of the details of the charge. To this Judge Mulqueen demurred. He suggested that a plea of not guilty be entered at once, saying that if at the end of a week the attorney wished to change the plea he was sure any court would grant permission.

Becker was then remanded to the Tombs, where he was locked up for the night. His attorney accompanied him to the prison and remained in conference with his client for 20 minutes.

Sam Paul Discharged.

Events leading to Becker's arrest began shaping themselves following the preliminary hearing of several of the men under arrest by the coroner. Sam Paul, leader of an East Side organization at whose recent outing it is claimed Rosenthal's killing was first discussed, was discharged. The others were held for a continued hearing.

With their attorneys Vallon, Webber and Rose were taken to the district attorney's office ready to testify before the grand jury. Messengers were at once dispatched for members of the grand jury and the first night session of that body held within 18 years was soon in progress.

VIRGINIA TROOPS CALLED OUT

SITUATION IN MINING DISTRICT IS DESPERATE.

Hundreds of Armed Miners in Mountains Endanger Lives of Strike Breakers.

Charleston, W. Va., July 30.—Almost 500 state troops are stationed throughout the Paint Creek district on a complete war footing, preparatory to entering upon a stern campaign to stamp out the lawlessness and terrorism prevailing throughout the district as the result of the mine strike.

The third battalion of the West Virginia national guard arrived here from the summer instruction camp at Mount Gretna, where it was sent on a rush order with instructions to be prepared to take the field in readiness to fight. This made the second reinforcement from Mount Gretna.

The situation throughout the mining district is desperate and the authorities are greatly alarmed over it.

Hundreds of the miners, heavily armed with Winchesters and revolvers, have established themselves in almost impregnable positions in the rough hill country, from which they swoop down on strike breakers and mine guards. They have announced they will kill the latter on sight and will give battle to the state troops if the latter move against them.

James Roberts, a bookkeeper at the Lewis mines at Cheyan is in a serious condition being shot down from ambush as he was about to board a train.

KANSAS MAY HAVE NO PRIMARY

ALL DEPENDS ON UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

Should Elector Contest Case be Delayed, Tickets Cannot be Printed in Time.

Topeka, July 30.—Unless the United States supreme court, or Justice Pitney sitting alone, decides the Kansas presidential elector contest by Thursday night the ballots for the primary on August 5 cannot be printed in time.

That will mean that at least in the western half of the state there will not be any primaries for any officers—presidential electors, United States senator, governor or constable—as far as the Republicans are concerned.

The remarkable situation has arisen that the entire primary law of Kansas, whose validity is not questioned, is in imminent danger of being completely set aside by an order of the United States supreme court.

When the application of the Taft men was made to Justice Pitney Saturday the justice fixed Thursday for the hearing, upon an agreement being made that the county clerks would not print the ballots until after the hearing and decision.

Word has come to Gov. Stubbs, Congressman Fred S. Jackson and the others that the full bench, or as many of the justices as can be gotten together, will be called in by Justice Pitney to hear the case Saturday or Monday. But if the hearing is postponed until then, it might as well be put off until October or next year, because of the physical impossibility of printing and distributing the ballots after Thursday.

"FUNNY" JOKE ENDED IN DEATH

Memphis Boys Poured Gasoline on Park Sleeper and Set Fire to It —Murder is Charged.

Memphis, July 30.—Mitchell Cabaniss, 18 years old, and Clarence Shaw, 16, are charged with a murder, to which they smilingly confessed when arrested.

They explained that they had expected to give Robert M. Ellis only a scare and occasion for a quick plunge into the pool in Forest park, when they poured a mixture of whisky and gasoline over his clothing while he slept on a park bench and then applied a match.

The mixture flamed all right, but instead of seeing Ellis run for the lagoon they saw policemen make frantic efforts to tear Ellis' flaming clothing from him. He was dead before the blaze went out. The boys eluded the the police for 48 hours.

TRAINS TO RUN SLOW IN WINTER

Wreck of Twentieth Century Limited Causes Change in Cold Weather Schedule.

Albany, N. Y., July 30.—That the accident of the New York Central's Twentieth Century Limited at Hyde Park March 13 was due to unevenness in the outer rails and not to a broken rail as was generally supposed, is the finding of the state public service commission as the result of its investigation of the accident.

In connection with its report the commission recommends the reduction in the speed of passenger trains, especially in the winter season, and announces that the New York Central and Pennsylvania have practically consented to change the schedule of their 18-hour New York-Chicago trains to 20 hours in the winter.

High Prices Cut Policies.

Albany, N. Y., July 30.—The annual report of the state insurance department, covering the business of life insurance for 1911 shows a considerable increase in the amount of lapsed and surrendered insurance, which the department says "no doubt may be attributed in a great degree to the general increase in the cost of living."

CANAL GREAT WORK

MR. FORD'S VIVID DESCRIPTION PORAYS IMMENSITY OF JOB.

FRIGHT TRAFFIC LARGE

Four Railroad Lines Are Continually Congested Because of the Large Amount of Stuff Handled.

Mr. Stanley Ford, son of Rev. J. S. Ford of this city, spoke to the Normal students Monday morning on the Panama canal. Mr. Ford is assistant superintendent of the department of government printing in Panama, and he has been at work there for the last three years.

Mr. Ford briefly sketched the six-day trip from New York to Panama, telling of the old Spanish towns which dot the east of the Carribean sea and which are rich in tales of mystery and conquest. Arriving at Panama, Colon is the first city reached, and is named after Cristopher Columbus. The canal begins there.

The canal itself is fifty and one-half miles long and is situated in the canal zone, a tract of land forty miles long and ten miles wide. Beginning on the Atlantic side, the first seven miles of the canal are at sea level. Then by a series of three locks known as the Gatun locks, the level of the canal is raised eighty-five feet. From this point the channel is through Gatun lake, a lake thirty-two miles long. The channel through the lake is 1,000 feet wide, and ships can travel through it at ocean going speed. The whole distance of the lake is not used, the route of the canal going through the famous Culora cut, which is twenty-three miles from the Gatun locks. This cut is nine miles long, and at its end there is a drop of thirty feet in one lock to Miraflores lake. This lake was made by damming three small rivers. By two locks the level of the canal drops from Miraflores lake to sea level at a distance of nine miles from the Pacific coast.

The trip through the canal will take twelve hours, three of which will be spent in going through the locks.

Mr. Ford said that there was no truth in the statement that the Pacific ocean was higher than the Atlantic. The sea level of the two is the same, but the very high tides of the Pacific make it seem higher than the Atlantic.

He then spoke briefly of the different plans for a canal which have been made during the last 400 years, and of the nineteen routes suggested in these plans. He also sketched the work of the French government on the canal, and attributed its failure largely to a lack of sanitation and ignorance of the malaria and yellow fever mosquitos.

The engineering work of the canal is divided into three sections, the Atlantic, Central and Pacific. The Atlantic section covers the work from the coast to the Gatunt locks, the Central extends from there to the end of the Culebra cut, and the Pacific takes the remainder.

Culebra cut is the great feature of the work, being made through the continental divide. It is the busiest place on the canal. Four main railroad lines run through it, from which branches extend to all parts. Trains of twenty cars carry the dirt and rock out of the cut. Between 7 a. m. and 5 p. m. these trains are run at intervals of three or four minutes. No freight or passenger traffic is allowed except after working hours, and then the rush of freight and passenger trains keeps up all through the night. The freight traffic is so large that the trains cannot handle all of it.

The slides in this cut which one hears so much about are neither very serious in their effects on the work nor dangerous. They move very slowly; one or two feet a day, and now steam shovels are removing them faster than they can slide down on the work.

Along the line of the canal twenty towns have been built. Nearly all of these towns get their amusements from Y. M. C. A. organizations. Large club houses furnish all manner of games, reading rooms, and places for dancing. The total population of these towns, together with the coast towns, is between forty and fifty thousand. The number of Americans is small compared with other races, there being only 5,000 Americans, while there are 10,000 Spaniards, 20,000 West Indian negroes, a large number of Chinese, and a sprinkling of Italians, Greeks, etc. These 50,000 people are practically under the government of a dictator, for the word of the chairman of the canal commission is law. The government has been exceptionally good.

The problem of what to do with these people when the canal is finished will not be a hard one. It is planned to send the West Indian negroes back to their former homes on the islands. In speaking of this, Mr. Ford told of a peculiar custom of the British government. He said that whenever a British subject left the country the government demands a payment, which is kept to enable that person to return home should he ever want to do so. As for the other people, the Americans and Spaniards are already leaving as fast as they can make enough money to keep them or give them a start in business when they get home.

A plan is now being projected to take the canal machinery to Alaska and build railroads which will open all of that country to the world.

FELL FORM UPSTAIRS WINDOW.

The 1-Year-Old Girl Baby of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keefe Walked in Her Sleep Monday Night.

The 1-year-old girl baby of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keefe, living near Clyde, got out of her trundle bed Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock and toddled over by the window that opens near the floor and fell out to the ground, a distance of about fifteen feet.

It is supposed that the child was overheated and was walking in her sleep trying to find a cool place. The window had no screen over it and there was nothing to prevent her falling through the open window.

The parents were aroused by her cries and she was soon rescued from her predicament. Dr. W. P. Stuckle was summoned to see if the child was injured, but he found the parents suffering greater injury than the baby. No bones were broken, and aside from a few bruises the child was all right.

ENGINEER PHILLIPS HERE.

Suggestions Made to Board of Public Works as to Making Test For Water Supply.

Hiram Phillips, one of the engineers hired by the board of public works, was in Maryville Monday and was in conference with the board of public works. Mr. Phillips made an inspection trip with the board to test wells east of the city, and he says that it looks encouraging for well water for a city supply. He made suggestions to the board as to how to go farther and the details necessary as to the pump test. The board intends to make a thorough test for well water, and Mr. Phillips told them how to develop the test and how to find out whether there is a sufficient supply of water.

Mr. Phillips left Maryville Monday evening. In his conference with the board, they went over many matters as to the valuation of the water plant.

STATE LOSES APPLE TREES.

A Decrease of Six Million Since the Last Tree Census.

At a meeting of the state board of horticulture, held at Jefferson City on Monday, W. W. Chenowith of Columbia, secretary of the board, tendered his resignation, which was accepted. He resigns to take a place as instructor in the Massachusetts State Agricultural college. His successor will be selected at the next meeting of the board.

Among other proceedings at the session a call was issued for a meeting of the American Apple Growers' congress at the Planters' hotel in St. Louis, August 22.

A number of prizes were offered by the board as follows: Two $100 scholarships in the state university to the boy sending to the state agricultural college at Columbia one gallon of the best picked apples of this year's crop; $400 for horticultural awards at the state fair at Sedalia.

Reports were submitted to the board showing that the number of apple trees in Missouri have diminished from 20,000,000 a few years back to about 14,000,000 at this time. No reason is assigned for the decrease beyond the ravages of insects and the unreliability of the crop. Reports indicate a very heavy yield of apples in Missouri this year.

LAND VALUES INCREASE

With Improved Schools, Says Statement From School Mill Tax Amendment Headquarters.

Visitors to Missouri from the extreme western states, interviewed on school problems of the rural districts, express astonishment at the neglect of rural schools in this state and wonder at the stupidity of the farmers who do nothing to improve them. As an illustration of the good accruing from adequate school support, they cite the increase in land values in those rural districts where good schools obtain and are kept up to a high standard.

"The farmers of the west, particularly in Washington and California, are keen alive to the fact that generous support of the public schools and the maintenance of good roads is the best medium for increasing land values and establishing a solid estate in the rural districts," said P. H. Greene, a heavy owner of rural lands in Washington.

"The first question the investor asks when you go to sell him a farm is, "How about the schools?" This question is always followed by one relative to road conditions. We have a bad time selling farms where we cannot give satisfactory answers along these lines. The support of schools and roads is not an expense which nets no gain. On the contrary, adequate school and road taxes serve as splendid investments. Without good roads and schools land values decrease. They decrease rapidly where surrounding districts are making school and road improvements.

"The people are always shifting to where they have the most advantages. I am told here in Missouri many of the farmers who have made sufficient money to live easily are renting or selling their farms and moving to the towns and cities. This exodus should be checked, it is one of the prime causes of the high cost of living. The farmers should have schools and other necessary institutions and the proper means for reaching them. Farm life should be made comfortable and desirable.

"Aside from pride in his state and nation, the farmer should see that the support of schools is putting money in his pocket, not taking it out. In Washington it would not be necessary to urge the farmers to support the schools properly. They want the best there is always."

Missouri rural districts would have schools comparing favorably with the best and farm lands would increase in value with the adoption of the school mill tax amendment at the November election. The amendment provides sufficient funds for common and high schools, and will release a million dollars from the general state revenue which may be used by the legislature for good roads or other objects of general demand.

CATARRH OF STOMACH.

Indigestion and Stomach Agony Quickly Ended.

If you went to thirty doctors and paid each his fee for a prescription for indigestion or stomach misery it is ten chances to one you wouldn't get such a good prescription as the one from which MI-O-NA stomach tablets are made.

How can such a thing be? you naturally ask.

Simply because the man who wrote the prescription from which MI-O-NA tablets are made knows more about stomach diseases than 96 per cent of all the physicians in America, and he gets paid for knowing.

And when you can get a large box of tablets made from this doctor's prescription for only 50 cents, are you going to continue to suffer? Sold by the Orear-Henry Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.

AMERICAN WOMEN LEAVING MEXICO

Salazar's Threat of Massacre Causes General Exodus.

WANTS TO FORCE INTERVENTION

Men of Mormon Colonies Remain Behind, Unarmed and Helpless—Many Train loads of Refugees on Way to Texas.

El Paso, Tex., July 30.—Nearly 600 American women and children, hungry and worn out with fatigue and fear have just arrived here. They came on another special train of refugees, from the Mormon colonies in the Cases Grandes district, 200 miles south of the United States border at this point. The train departed for another load and still more are expected on a train due to arrive here early in the morning.

There are already more than 800 refugees from the colonies in this city. The refugees are from the three large and three small colonies, each with almost an entire American population, Dublan, with 1,200, Juarez with 800, Diaz 750 and three minor mountain settlements with from 250 to 300 population each. According to conservative figures given by the Mormon church dignitaries here, more than 3,350 Americans in Mexico consider themselves in grave danger.

Refugees Living in Tents.

City officials of El Paso have housed the refugees in tents, and city and county physicians are attending the sick.

The correspondent of an El Paso paper wired a statement here declaring that Salazar, second in command of the Mexican rebel army had made several addresses in which he asserted that all Americans in the rebel zone were to be disarmed, and all protection guaranteed for American citizens withdrawn.

Salazar is reported as saying that inasmuch as the American government had treated the rebels as bandits, they may as well act such parts.

Some Americans, who recently left Mexico, consider it will be only a few days before intervention by the United States is forced. They say they expect the destruction of all American property.

Orozco Shoulders Blame.

Juarez, Mexico, July 30.—Gen. Pascual Orozco, commander in chief of the rebels, admitted that he was responsible for the order disarming the Mormons and declares that the United States is to blame.

He takes the grounds that he must have arms and ammunition in some manner. If the United States will recognize his government, he says, and permit him to import cartridges and arms, he will agree to protect all foreigners. He says he demonstrated his ability to do so until the United States shut off his supply of ammunition.

ARMY OFFICERS UNDER ARREST

Refusal to Obey Orders Gets National Guardsmen Into Trouble After Sham Battle.

Gate, Wash., July 30.—Four officers of the second battalion, third regiment, Oregon national guard, are under arrest on a charge of refusal to obey orders, as the result of the battalion's failure to obey immediately a command after the sham battle to return to Oakville, whence the regiment came.

After the fighting, which had closed a week's maneuvers, the regiment carrying heavy field equipment, proceeded to this place. The officers of the second battalion, it is said, declined to obey the order. Later, after abandoning their accoutrements, the second battalion returned to Oakville.

PASSENGERS HAD CLOSE CALL

Missouri Pacific Train Derailed at Sherman, Mo.—Two Trainmen Injured.

Sedalia, Mo., July 30.—An obstruction in a frog on the Missouri Pacific at Sherman, 25 miles west of St. Louis, resulted in the derailment of the engine, tender, mail car, baggage car, smoker and one coach of westbound train No. 3 at 11 o'clock. Paul Smith, engineer, of Sedalia and W. P. Dameron, baggageman, of St. Louis were injured. The passengers were severely shaken up. Trains are being detoured over the Frisco tracks between St. Louis and Pacific.

Says Ball Fans are Crazy.

St. Louis, July 30.—The Rev. Louis Schott de Burgh, pastor of Windsor Methodist Episcopal church, attended the double header between St. Louis and New York, to get material for a sermon he will preach on baseball. He says all fans are suffering from a form of insanity and pointed to the wild cheering which followed a good play as evidence that the people were afflicted with "baseballophobia."

Threw Himself Under a Train.

Hastings, Neb., July 30.—Oliver Linder, 60 years old, committed suicide by throwing himself in front of the engine of the Burlington passenger train near the station here.

DEATH CLAIMS JAPAN'S RULER

Mutsuhito Passes Away After Long Illness.

CROWN PRINCE TAKES THRONE

Meeting of Privy Council Called Immediately to Arrange for Crowning of New Emperor.

Tokio, July 30.—Mutsuhito, emperor of Japan, died this morning at 12.43 o'clock. Acute nephritis was given as the cause of death.

The crown prince, Yoshihito, has succeeded to the throne.

The mikado had suffered from kidney trouble eight or nine years. Of late it had been growing much worse. An intestinal complaint also developed July 14, fits of prolonged drowsiness followed and July 18 the patient's brain became affected and he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Late Emperor of Japan.
Born August 31, 187—Died July 30 1912—Was made ruler in January, 1867.

A slight rally in the patient's condition early in the night failed to hold. Every resource known to science was used by the attending physicians to bear him over the crisis which they knew to be at hand, but the stimulants administered to strengthen the heart action had no effect.

Last Moments Impressive.

The last moments of the mikado were most impressive. Surrounding the deathbed were the empress, Crown Prince Yoshihito's wife and the young princess and the royal physicians together with a few of the heads of state.

Crown Prince Yoshihito was the only one of the mikado's near relatives who was unable from the first to be near to his father. He was just recovering from a severe attack of chickenpox, and his doctors told him it would be unwise for him to leave his bed.

While the throngs in front of the royal palace had been waiting for hours in breathless expectancy and had seemingly been prepared for the announcement of the end an audible wail arose from the multitude when that announcement came.

Crowds Awaited the News.

The crowds had been storming at the palace gates for hours as if in the hope of getting to the bedside of the dying emperor. Military guards were increased until they formed a cordon around the palace grounds. After the bulletin proclaiming the emperor was dead was given out, several more regiments of soldiers were hastened to the palace.

Immediately after the announcement of the emperor's death a meeting of the privy council was called by its president, Prince Aritomo Yamata, and a meeting of the cabinet was called by Premier Saioni to arrange for the crowning of the crown prince.

Under the reign of the late mikado, Japan underwent almost miraculous changes. From the very first he displayed intuitive genius in fashioning the political affairs of his people and in forging out the destiny of his empire. He is acclaimed by the entire world as the father of modern Japan.

Springfield, Mass., July 30.—The telephone girls here have organized a union with 250 members. They will affiliate with the American Federation of Labor. Officials of the telephone company say they are not opposed to the move, but will treat union and non-union operators alike.

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST BECKER

New York Police Lieutenant Arrested for Gambler's Death.

After Plea of Not Guilty, Officer Is Locked Up in Prison—Grand Jury Called at Night First Time in 18 Years.

New York, July 30.—Police Lieut. Charles Becker, accused by Herman Rosenthal as his partner in a gambling game, was arrested accused of participating in the gambler's killing. He was forced to plead at once to a charge of murder in the first degree. Becker was arraigned before Judge Mulqueen, who had convened the court of general sessions at night for the purpose. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded to the Tombs.

Becker was arrested on a charge of extortion at the Bathgate avenue police station in the Bronx, where he has been on duty. At the time no inkling of the more serious charge to be placed against him was given.

Hurried Before Judge.

Meanwhile the grand jury, which has been in session, had voted the murder indictment. The police lieutenant, who had been suspended by Commissioner Waldo after his arrest, was hurried before Judge Mulqueen.

It was close to midnight when Becker was brought into court. He held his head erect and showed little or no concern.

John Hart, who appeared as Becker's counsel, asked for time to confer with his client, saying he had not seen Becker during the day and knew nothing of the details of the charge. To this Judge Mulqueen demurred. He suggested that a plea of not guilty be entered at once, saying that if at the end of a week the attorney wished to change the plea he was sure any court would grant permission.

Becker was then remanded to the Tombs, where he was locked up for the night. His attorney accompanied him to the prison and remained in conference with his client for 20 minutes.

Sam Paul Discharged.

Events leading to Becker's arrest began shaping themselves following the preliminary hearing of several of the men under arrest by the coroner. Sam Paul, leader of an East Side organization at whose recent outing it is claimed Rosenthal's killing was first discussed, was discharged. The others were held for a continued hearing.

With their attorneys Vallon, Webber and Rose were taken to the district attorney's office ready to testify before the grand jury. Messengers were at once dispatched for members of the grand jury and the first night session of that body held within 18 years was soon in progress.

Mineola, N. Y., July 30.—A series of experiments is to be undertaken on the aviation field here this week which may mark a notable advance in the conquest of the air. Experts from the signal corps of the state national guard will try out a new device for calming the air waves in the immediate vicinity of a flying aeroplane by means of wireless transmission of electricity.

VIRGINIA TROOPS CALLED OUT

SITUATION IN MINING DISTRICT IS DESPERATE.

Hundreds of Armed Miners in Mountains Endanger Lives of Strike Breakers.

Charleston, W. Va., July 29.—Almost 500 state troops are stationed throughout the Paint Creek district on a complete war footing, preparatory to entering upon a stern campaign to stamp out the lawlessness and terrorism prevailing throughout the district as the result of the mine strike.

The third battalion of the West Virginia national guard arrived here from the summer instruction camp at Mount Gretna, where it was sent on a rush order with instructions to be prepared to take the field in readiness to fight. This made the second reinforcement from Mount Gretna.

The situation throughout the mining district is desperate and the authorities are greatly alarmed over it.

Hundreds of the miners, heavily armed with Winchesters and revolvers, have established themselves in almost impregnable positions in the rough hill country, from which they swoop down on strike breakers and mine guards. They have announced they will kill the latter on sight and will give battle to the state troops if the latter move against them.

James Roberts, a bookkeeper at the Lewis mines at Chelyan is in a serious condition being shot down from ambush as he was about to board a train.

ALL DEPENDS ON UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

Should Elector Contest Case be Delayed, Tickets Cannot be Printed in Time.

Topeka, July 30.—Unless the United States supreme court, or Justice Pitney sitting alone, decides the Kansas presidential elector contest by Thursday night the ballots for the primary on August 5 cannot be printed in time.

That will mean that at least in the western half of the state there will not be any primaries for any officers—presidential electors, United States senator, governor or constable—as far as the Republicans are concerned.

The remarkable situation has arisen that the entire primary law of Kansas, whose validity is not questioned is in imminent danger of being completely set aside by an order of the United States supreme court.

When the application of the Taft men was made to Justice Pitney Saturday the justice fixed Thursday for the hearing, upon an agreement being made that the county clerks would not print the ballots until after the hearing and decision.

Word has come to Gov. Stubbs, Congressman Fred S. Jackson and the others that the full bench, or as many of the justices as can be gotten together, will be called in by Justice Pitney to hear the case Saturday or Monday. But if the hearing is postponed until then, it might as well be put off until October or next year, because of the physical impossibility of printing and distributing the ballots after Thursday.

"FUNNY" JOKE ENDED IN DEATH

Memphis Boys Poured Gasoline on Park Sleeper and Set Fire to It —Murder is Charged.

Memphis, July 30.—Mitchell Cabaniss, 18 years old, and Clarence Shaw, 16, are charged with a murder, to which they smilingly confessed when arrested.

They explained that they had expected to give Robert M. Ellis only a scare and occasion for a quick plunge into the pool in Forest park, when they poured a mixture of whisky and gasoline over his clothing while he slept on a park bench and then applied a match.

The mixture flamed all right, but instead of seeing Ellis run for the lagoon they saw policemen make frantic efforts to tear Ellis' flaming clothing from him. He was dead before the blaze went out. The boys eluded the the police for 48 hours.

TRAINS TO RUN SLOW IN WINTER

Wreck of Twentieth Century Limited Causes Change in Cold Weather Schedule.

Albany, N. Y., July 30.—That the accident of the New York Central's Twentieth Century Limited at Hyde Park March 13 was due to unevenness in the outer rails and not to a broken rail as was generally supposed, is the finding of the state public service commission as the result of its investigation of the accident.

In connection with its report the commission recommends the reduction in the speed of passenger trains, especially in the winter season, and announces that the New York Central and Pennsylvania have practically consented to change the schedule of their 18-hour New York-Chicago trains to 20 hours in the winter.

High Prices Cut Policies.

Albany, N. Y., July 30.—The annual report of the state insurance department, covering the business of life insurance for 1911 shows a considerable increase in the amount of lapsed and surrendered insurance, which the department says "no doubt may be attributed in a great degree to the general increase in the cost of living."

My Quest.

I follow the trail
To find Truth ere I rest.
I follow the trail
Men say I shall fail
In this measureless quest
To find Truth ere I rest.
What though I should fail?
I follow the trail.
